Copies of the recent encyclical letter of the Pope on "The Study of the Scriptures" have been received by members of the Roman Catholic clergy in this city. Following is a translation of the important part of the document:

f Brooklyn have been contesting the ownership of this property. Commissioner Brower. under the last administration, attempted to compel the removal of the mammoth bathing pavilion erected by William A. Engeman, president of the Brighton Beach Racing Association, and Commissioner Richard Young, before building the present Seaside Park, held several conferences with Mr. Engeman to determine, if possible, the exact rights of the city in the premises.

At the meeting of the Board of Improvements yesterday the closing of the street was strengously objected to by Park Commissioner Young and the Corporation Coun sel in a letter. Commissioner Young de clared that the closing of the street would endanger the rights of the city in the prop erty adjoining and abutting that of the Engeman estate, several hundred feet of which is now under water. This property be hoped to reclaim for the city, for which t had paid the owners many years ago Is now worth about $1,000,000.

The spirit of cleanliness ought to be something greater than the protect his property, which was in danger of being swept away by the inroads of the Atlantic Ocean. In order to erect proper bulkheads it was necessary that the street be closed, to prevent interference from the Park Department in erecting the breakwater. A short time ago the department compelled the Engeman estate to storn building a bulkhead and within the last we k two feet of the shore front was washed.

The disturbance eventually grow so two feet of the shore front was washed, away and great damage has been done to the property of the petitioner. Commissioner of Highways Redfield asked Commissioner Young will appeal to the Board of Fstimate and Apportionment for the reopening of the street. Many of the itles to Coney Island property are involved to the decision of the rights of ownership as presented in the controversy.

The committee decided to capitulate without further ado. They took the usual course of deciding in open session to report adversely upon the ordinance.

Crowd Fills the Aldermanic Chamber at the Hearing on the Goldwater Ordinance Blind Man and Dog Led In-Committee Gives In on the Spot.

The public hearing of the Aldermanic ommittee on Laws and Legislation on he Goldwater ordinance prohibiting the keeping of dogs in houses where more than one family lives attracted more folks than ven the big Aldermanic chamber could old. Women outnumbered the men by at least five to one, and every one of the vomen came to champion the cause of he dog. They protested against the ordicance in English and in foreign languages with convincing logic and in hyserical tears.

Women of all kinds were there, and the woman who kept a log in a three-rooom enement on the East Side was not a bit nore emphatic than the woman who asserted that her footman took the dog out or a daily airing. Every point in favor f the dogs was rapturously applauded by he two hundred or more women, and the wo solitary men who had the hardihood to speak for the ordinance were greeted with hisses and jeers.

Alderman Matthews, the chairman of the committee, who presided, is ordinarily even-tempered, but several times yesterday he came near losing his temper and more than came near losing his temper and more than once threatened to adjourn the hearing.

Alderman Oatman was the first speaker in opposition to the ordinance. He delivered an oration on the love of the dog for man that led one woman to call out: "You are a real gentleman." Mr. Oatman might have been talking yet if Chairman Matthews had not brought the oration to an end by announcing a three-minute limit on speeches. "It is very hard, I know," he said, "to limit ladies to talking only three minutes, but we must do it to-day."

Mr. Cuvelier tried to go on, but it was apparent that he had run up against a stronger opposition than he had expected. Finally he suggested a compromise that the ordinance should be modified to provide that dogs should only be permitted to pass through the halls of apartment houses when they were attached to a chain or a rope, but his listeners would have none of him or his compromise.

The worst outbreak came when E. W. Langerfeldt spoke in favor of the ordinance.

Commissioner of Highways Redfield asked Mr. Engeman to make an agreement with the city not to claim any property reclaimed from the sea by the construction of the bulk-band. This was declimed. The committee decided to great that Mr. Matthews said he would have the hall cleared and would listen to Mr. Langerfeldt in executive session, but the threat had no effect. Mr. Langerfeldt sat down a few minutes later.

GETS OUT OF CUBAN CABINET

TAMAYO RESIGNS BECAUSE OF LABOR RIOTS.

Public Blames Him for Encouraging the Strikers and President Palma Is Forced to Accept His Resignation -Cigarmakers Not Yet Satisfied. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.

HAVANA, Nov. 28 .- All the principal cigar manufacturers of Havana, with the exception of the Havana Commercial Company, held a meeting last night and sent terms to the striking cigarmakers. They agreed to admit Cuban apprentices.

The Havana Commercial Company sent a circular letter to its factories explaining that it would admit Cuban apprentices, but saying it could not allow committees of workmen to interfere in the management of the factories, nor would it employ unfit hands. As the men apparently wished to decide who was to be employed the company would not accept their terms. Some of the agitators are still trying to work up another general strike, but public opinion is against them.

The resignation of Senor Tamayo as Secretary of Government, which was tendered in consequence of the support given by him to the strikers, was accepted to-day by President Palma, whose action was indorsed by the Cabinet. Senor Yero, Secretary of Public Instruction, will replace Schor Tamayo temporarily.

virtually forced by public opinion and the poisonous composition, safe to use, and will press, which were almost unanimously against Sefor Tamayo. President Palma was a passive spectator of the whole affair. On Monday Senor Zaldo, Secretary of State and Justice, and Senor Tamayo had a row at a Cabinet meeting, the former accusing Senor Tamayo of being responsiwas another outburst of applause.

The other pro-dog specches were largely devoted to anecotose of the fidelity of dogs to their owners, of the lives they had saved his office and apparently made no reply ble for the strike and a traitor to the Government. Senor Tamayo verbally resigned to Señor Zaldo efforts to save Senor Tamavo, but the Republicans insisted that the resignation should be accepted. Another reason for its acceptance was that the row in the Cabinet became generally known and threatened a public scandal. The loss of Senor Tamayo is a blow to the Nationalists, and it is considered that the Republicans will probably gain thereby as it is always an advantage to be in power. It is not yet known who the successor of Sener Tamayo will be. It is stated that the action of the Radical element serves to show that they have nothing to offer the country and that they will go to extremes to embarrass the Government. This will force the sympathy of the Republicans and the more con-servative to the side of the Government. The Ayuntamiento, which has a Nationalist majority, has expressed its confidence in the Mayor by a vote of 15 to 4.

CHAPMAN DELEGATES HIS AXE AND 8 MEN ARE CAPTURED,

William Hohenzollern McGuire, the sturdy right-hand man of Capt. Chapman in the Mercer street precinct, cut eight more notches yesterday afternoon on the back of the handle of the trusty axe which has hacked its way into the headquarters of The. Allen at 80 Sixth avenue exactly eighty times. These notches commemorate the number of prisoners the captain has taken. No notches were made yesterday on the other side of the handle, which is reserved for convictions.

Inspector Grant ordered the raid. He called up Chapman and told him to get in. no matter how. "I'll send two men to help you." he added.

A few minutes later Detectives Dondero and Doran of the inspector's staff came around to the Mercer street station. Capt. Chapman called Sergt. Walling, McGuire and twelve policemen and formally intrusted the axe to McGuire. Then all hands drove away in the patrol wagon.

A block from the suspected poolroom the wagon stopped and the raiders got out. McGuire and the two men of the inspector's staff sidled to the door of the place, while the policemen hid around the corner waiting for the word.

The two lookouts were off their guard when the detectives approached. McGuire pinned one of them against the wall before he had a chance to use the buzzer. The other detectives grabbed the other lookout and a yell brought the sergeant and the police.

H. B. KIRK & CO., N. Y. IS HE MARRIED OR SINGLE?

QUESTION STILL AFTER DOUBLE PORTION OF MATRIMONY.

a Man Weds a Woman Who Already Has a Husband and Then Marries a Girl Who Has Her Marriage Annulled, What Is He? Mr. Reichert Wants to Know.

There is some question whether Ernest Carl Reichert, who has gone through the ceremony of marriage with two women, is or is not still a bachelor. At present his status is tentatively that of an unmarried man, but there is a cloud upon his title to himself which any young woman contemplating matrimony with him would probably want to investigate. This condition of affairs has been brought about through a decision of Supreme Court Justice Steckler in annulling the marriage of Reichert to Selma Cronk, which took place in March, 1900. In the following December he went through the ceremony of marriage with Miss Ella Fried, who had advertised for a husband. He had just left the Cronk woman and given her some money telling her he was going to Cleveland.

She believed him till she passed his shop in Third avenue in January, 1901, and saw him within. Entering, she was confronted by Mrs. Reichert No. 2. Disclosures fol-lowed, and Miss Fried applied for an annument of her marriage on the ground of Reichert's bigamy. The Court granted her application.

Reichert investigated the antecedents of his first wife, and found that she had beer married to William Norman Cronk. She had not seen Cronk since 1894, and a lawyer had advised her that she could legally marry again. Reichert then sued for an annul-ment of his marriage to Mrs. Cronk. The question of fact was left to a jury, Mrs. Cronk not appearing to defend Reich-ert's suit, and the Court being in some doubt declared his marriage void. declared his marriage void.

The question remains open whether, since it has been held that he never was legally married to the Cronk woman, Reichert's marriage to Miss Fried was not valid, and whether she is not still his wife, not-withstanding the decree of annulment that she obtained she obtained
